MRS. HAYES BURIED.

The Wife of the Ex-President Laid to Rest in Oakwood.

An Immense Throng Gathers to Pay the Last Tribute.

A Profusion of Floral Offerings Sent by Many Friends.

Funeral Services of a Simple and Impressive Character.

Funeral of Mrs. Hayes

FREMONT, O., June 28.—The morning train brought quite a number of persons to pay the last tribute of respect to the late Mrs Hayes. There were groups of soldiers to be seen everywhere on the streets or on the way to the Hayes homestead.

The wide hall parlors and library were heavy with the perfume of flowers tributes from the public and private friends from comrades in the army of Generals Hayes and military and civic organizations. The profusion of these was bewildering, and many were of the most elaborate nature. Among the great number arriving to-day were a magnificent pillow of white lillies and maiden hair ferns from President and Mrs Harrison a cross of ivy and a base of lillies from the national organization of the W. C. T. U., and an easel of flowers from the Women's Relief Corps, department of Ohio. The Lucy Hayes mission band sent a piece consisting of fifty seven white roses, one for each year of the life just closed. The most beautiful piece came from the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church, of which Mrs Hayes was president.

The funeral services were simple and unostentatious preserving the character of a private rather than a public occasion. They were opened with the reading of the twenty third psalm by Mrs Hayes' pastor, Rev. J. M. Mills, of the Methodist church. This was followed by a hymn, "My Jesus as Thou Wilt," read by Rev. C. E. Barnes, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and singing by a quartette choir. Prayer was then offered by Rev. D. R. Bashford, of Wesleyan university, Delaware, Ohio. A second hymn followed, which was read by Rev. N. Shappe, of the Evangelical church, beginning "When Peace Like a River." Rev. L. D. McCabe, LL.D., who performed the marriage ceremony for General Hayes and wife, then delivered a brief funeral address. Rev. J. I. Swander, of the Reform church, then read the hymn beginning "God be with You till We Meet Again," which was rendered by the choir. Rev. M. Long, of the Evangelical Lutheran church, then repeated the Lord's prayer closing the simple and impressive services.

An opportunity was then given to the throngs of sympathizing visitors from abroad to view the body. The funeral cortege then took up the line of march to Oakwood cemetery where the interment took place.

The body was arrayed in a dress of ivory cream satin with white passamenterie and lace trimmings. The dress was made for Mrs Hayes while she was in the White house. The illness was so short and death so sudden that there was but little emaciation. Her face was pale but there was a trace of rose color in her cheeks, her closed eyes were not sunken and there was a smile on her lips. The postoffice, banks and other business houses were closed this afternoon and there was a very large gathering of people at the funeral.

About a score of survivors of General Hayes' old regiment, the Twenty third Ohio volunteers, who had come to the funeral from different parts of the east, acted as a guard of honor to the hearse. The ceremonies at the cemetery were very brief. The casket was immediately lowered on the arrival at the grave. Dr. B. Ashford read the simple Methodist burial ritual and the mortal remains of Lucy Webb Hayes were left to await the morning of the resurrection. The pall bearers were sons and kinsmen of the d[illegible]

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The president appointed to day

Jas G. Wright, of Illinois, to be agent for the Indians of the Rosebud agency in Dakota.

Captain Meredith, of Chicago, to be chief of the bureau of engraving and printing.

Daniel M. Ransdell, of Indianapolis, United States marshal of the District of Columbia.

Frederick Douglas, of the District of Columbia to be minister resident and consul general of the U. S. to Hayti.

It is understood that Douglas will accept the mission to Hayti. It is said that the appointment will in no wise change the feeling of the United States towards the contending parties. Douglas' commission will secredit him to the republic of Hayti and he will present his credentials to whoever at the time represents the authority of that republic. The dealings of the present minister, Thompson, have been with Legitime and the situation will remain just the same as before Thompson left unless events in Hayti should in the meantime undergo a change.

The Situation Brightening.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 28.—The situation is growing brighter every day. Eight thousand dollars in cash arrived to day to pay the men in the various departments. The work of registering sufferers for the purpose of distribution of the local funds was finished to night but the totals have not been added. The men in charge of the work do not think that more than four persons were lost. Rev. Beale, chairman of the morgue committee has made his official report. He has a record of about 200 bodies. Ten bodies were recovered to day. The greatest loss of life occurred on Washington street nineteen persons being killed in one house and the last of dead from this thoroughfare reaching 18. Property losses amounting nearly to [illegible] board of inquiry commence work to day in the seventh ward. They aim to secure the [illegible] of the city lost and saved.

LONDON, June 28.—Prince Albert Victor, the eldest son of the Prince of Wales, has been affianced to Princess Victoria of Prussia, a sister of the emperor of Germany. Information is given that the Prince of Wales will give his son a marriage settlement and parliament will not be asked to make provision for him.

Mor[illegible] Attack[illegible]

TUSCOLA, Ill., June 28.—A few night's since an attempt was made to burn the Odd Fellows' hall in Bradshaw, because a number of preachers, said to be Mormon elders were holding meetings there in. The missionaries have stirred the people up to such an extent that the Mormons have been attacked several times lately.

Ten Innings.

LEADVILLE, June 28.—It took ten innings for the Colorado Springs to win from Leadville to day. It was a very fine game of ball up to the tenth inning when Leadville went to pieces. Hagerman and Legg were the battery for Colorado Springs, Gerrity and Wine for Leadville.

A High Bred Colt.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 28.—The celebrated brood mare, Miss Russell, the dam of Maud S., with a record of 2.08¾, Nutwood, 2.18¾, and Cora Belmont, 2.24¾, has just foaled a bay filly at Woodburn by the famous California stallion, Electioneer. With the exception of her full sister, the yearling Rustique, this filly is considered the highest bred trotting youngster now on the American continent. She is Miss Russell's eventeenth foal.

No Indictments Returned.

CHICAGO, June 28.—If the grand jury obtained any valuable information this afternoon regarding the Cronin case it did not become known. Lawyer Hardy who conducted the cross examination when Alexander Sullivan by a ruse was investigating Cronin's record before a justice of the peace several years ago and Stenographer Willis who took down what Cronin said at that time were among the witnesses. The dentist who identified the corpse found in the sewer as that of Cronin was recalled and reiterated his testimony. Adjournment was taken to night without the return of any indictments.

Hail, Rain and Wind.

RUSHFORD, Minn., June 28.—A combined cyclone, waterspout and hail storm passed east of here last night, destroying everything in its path. A belt two miles wide and thirty miles in length was absolutely laid waste, the trees being as bare of leaves as in winter. The loss is about $100,000. Immense trees, two feet or more in diameter were torn up and twisted off and the merciless hail pelted vegetation into the ground. The hailstones were fully as large as a man's fist. Andrew Firico, of Yucatan, was drowned in the flood and another drowning is reported from Houston.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The dealings in the stock market to day presented few features for comment. The dullness was conspicuous throughout the day. Trusts were very quiet as compared with their late activity and while presenting a firm front did not show any marked fluctuations. YALE THE WINNER.

The Result of the Great College Boat Race at New London.

The Blue Finishes Six Lengths Ahead of Harvard's Crimson.

Yale's Effective Stroke Too Much for the Harvard Eight.

Thousands of Spectators Line the Banks of the Thames.

The Yale Harvard Race.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 28.—The fourteenth annual four mile straight away eight oared race between the crews representing the Universities of Yale and Harvard was rowed this evening over the Thames river course and won by Yale by six boat lengths. The official time is Yale, 21.50, Harvard, 21.55. The series of races between these universities now stands Yale eight victories and Harvard six victories. Yale also holds the record for the fastest time over the course 21.01 made last year.

The crowd which saw the race was unusually large, there being several thousand more strangers in town than for several years. All the desirable points along the course were packed with people. The race was originally set for 5 o'clock, but postponed until evening on account of rough water. The crews were promptly sent away at 7.20 o'clock. Harvard started off, with a thirty two stroke as did also Yale. At the end of the quarter mile Yale took a lead of about ten feet. Both crews were in excellent form and during the next quarter mile neither could gain an inch. Just after passing the half mile flag Harvard took the lead about ten feet. This Harvard held for a few seconds. As the crews neared the mile flag Yale spurted, gaining a quarter length, passing the mile flag in 4.47, pulling thirty three strokes with Harvard two seconds behind, pulling thirty one. The spurt by which Yale took the lead at the mile flag settled the race, as after passing that point the blue gradually increased her lead and Harvard was unable to prevent it.

Yale passed the one and a half mile flag in 7.15, pulling thirty-two strokes, and Harvard in 7.19, pulling thirty strokes. The Yale men then dropped their stroke to thirty, while Harvard increased hers to thirty-two. The effects of the hard race for one and a half miles were plainly visible in the Harvard boat. Finlay, No. 5, and Tilton, No. 6, were losing form and Finlay was slow in getting his oars into the water for each stroke. Yale, however, was pulling in perfect form. Every man in the boat pulled as one man and lifted their oars in perfect time. At two miles Yale showed a boat's length of clear water and the race was finished so far as Harvard's chances were concerned. At that point (two miles) Yale was pulling thirty three strokes and Harvard thirty-two. After passing the two mile flag, Nos 5 and 7 in the Harvard boat splashed badly and their body movement was bad.

Yale's sweeping strokes sent her further and further ahead and at the two and one-half mile flag they had a lead of four lengths. From the two and one-half mile flag to the three and one-half mile flag the positions remained the same. After passing the three and one-half mile flag Yale gradually increased its lead with no apparent effort. In the Harvard boat things were different. At the three and one quarter mile flag Yale struck smooth water close under the bank and two additional lengths were quickly added to her lead. Harvard then made a final effort to lessen the distance but to no purpose, as Yale crossed the line an easy winner by six lengths. Harvard lost because they were not so well taught as Yale and because their rapid stroke was not so effective as Yale's slower one.

English Bricks to be Used.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The complaint has been made that the government has contracted for the purchase of 350,000 enameled bricks made in England for use in the construction of the congressional library building. General Casey, chief of engineers, who has charge of the work, said that he had bought those bricks because they were the cheapest and best and that he had advertised extensively for bids for these bricks and that not a single American manufacturer had put in a proposal.

He succeeded in getting the engine and baggage car over, but two passenger coaches and the director's car went down and were badly wrecked. No one was killed outright. About fourteen as near as can be learned, were injured, two fatally.

R. W. SCOTT,
Manager of the Gazette.

It is said that General Boulanger is growing tired of life in London and contemplates taking a trip to this country.

Miss Mildred Fuller, the fourth daughter of the chief justice, will study law under the direction of her father. Miss Fuller is described by a New York paper as a decided blonde with light golden hair, a lovely face, irresistible eyes and a winning manner. Just imagine the demoralizing effect an argument from an attorney of that description is going to have on "twelve good men and true."

The Savannah News wants to know when the improvement in the mail service which was promised is to begin. The News is not keeping up with the times. The improvement in the mail service began on the 5th of last March. It is not an easy thing for a man to bring order out of chaos in a few weeks, but Mr. Wanamaker has taken a long step in that direction. The effect of business principles in the postoffice department is being felt throughout the country.

The New York World says that political parties often select for the delicate and serious skilled work of campaign management men whose sole claim to consideration is the possession of great personal fortunes made by juggling railroad affairs and other corporate interests. There is nothing personal of course in the World's remarks but Colonel Brice may possibly find them interesting reading, coming as they do from a leading organ of the party over whose central committee he has the honor to preside and whose campaign management he is to have the pleasure of directing.

Washington people are making an effort to have the great exposition, which is to be held in 1892 in commemoration of the discovery of America, go to the national capital. While the holding of the exposition in Washington would be eminently appropriate as to location, it would undoubtedly seriously interfere with the success of the undertaking. Washington is not big enough for an affair of such magnitude as is proposed to have the exposition of 1892. The fact that Washington has not the accommodations for the crowds which attend the inaugurations is generally known and its claim that it can accommodate the many thousands who would attend the exposition is ridiculous. If the exposition is to be held it should be located in a city where it can be made a success, and the first step in the direction of that success must be the locating of it in a place where visitors will not be kept away by the fear of inadequate accommodations.

Frederic Remington, the artist, who has several times shown his ability to write an interesting magazine paper as well as to illustrate one, will describe the Apaches and the Comanches in an article entitled "On the Indian Reservation" in the July Century. Among the dozen illustrations is a striking full page picture of an Indian horse race. "Coming over the Scratch," — "cunningly sketched from just in front of the horses' heads." Hampton W. Mabie, of the Christian Union, writes an open letter in the same number entitled "Indian and Indiana." In which he takes a higher view of the possibilities of the red man than does Mr. Remington. The Lincoln history in the July number will contain chapters on "Lincoln Renominated," "The Wade-Davis Manifesto," and "Horace Greeley's Peace Mission." Major John Hay, one of the authors of this history, was the medium of communication between Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Greeley at the time of the remarkable conference of Mr. Greeley with the pretended confederate peace commissioners at Niagara. Much of the correspondence relative to the matter now first sees the light in these pages.

It may not be generally known that a great national election is now taking place to determine the choice of a national flower. Some months ago a number of eastern men and women met for the purpose of deciding upon some plan for selecting an emblematic flower which shall be to the United States what the shamrock is to Ireland, the thistle to Scotland the rose to England and the lily to France. Those interested in the subject decided that there was but one way to select the flower and that was by popular vote. Any flower which grows within our borders is eligible but an enterprising eastern publisher, one of the chief promoters of the campaign had printed on a little card the pictures of two flowers the golden rod and trailing arbutus and above the pictures are the words "Which shall it be?" Thousands of these cards have been distributed throughout the country and it was naturally feared the claims of the golden rod and arbutus would prove so numerous that no flower would receive the majority vote. The polls will remain open until January 1 1890 and every man, woman and child in the United States is entitled to vote. Both of the leading candidates have many ardent supporters and the election will undoubtedly be a close one. The friends of the arbutus recall its spotless purity and the delightful associations connected with it while the friends of the golden rod claim for their candidate that it grows in all parts of the country and is thus more generally distributed than the arbutus which grows east of the Missouri only. The claim is also made that the golden rod grows in public places and is thoroughly democratic while the arbutus is exclusive and aristocratic. And so the campaign goes on, each party working for its favorite, which will win. [illegible]

Colonel Allen and his party left yesterday morning on his Oregon trip. He will stop in Manitou on his return trip for the fall months.

Mr. G. L. Rhodes, the assistant general passenger agent of the B. & M. railroad, is out from Chicago with his wife. They are guests at the Cliff.

If a sufficient number desire to attend the Bostonians at the Colorado Springs opera house next Monday evening, a special train will be run by the Denver and Rio Grande railroad for the purpose.

The funeral of Mr. Chas. M. Liebold took place yesterday afternoon. The services were held at the Congregational church, Rev. Geo. Michael officiating. The German Knights of Pythias attended in a body.

Mrs. W. H. Perry and child of Dallas, Texas, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Copeland and child of San Antonio, Texas, arrived in Manitou yesterday. They have taken rooms at the Cliff for a prolonged stay.

Mrs. J. H. Hunt of Massillon, Ohio, accompanied by her two daughters, are guests at the Cliff. Mr. J. H. Hunt is the cashier of the Union National bank of Massillon. The party will remain in Manitou for some time.

Work was begun yesterday by Engineer E. A. Sawyer and his corps of surveyors on a new addition. The land lies just south of the Midland depot. Mayor Isaac Davis is the proprietor. The party of engineers are stopping at the Buxton.

Mr. John Meisfelders, an artist of New York city, is a guest at the Barker. Mr. Meisfelder is an artist of national reputation and spent last summer in Manitou. He will remain during the season painting and sketching landscape scenery in this vicinity.

An Exciting Scene.

For some time there has been evidence that a majority of the citizens are tired of the salvation army parades and for more than a week past when they appeared upon the streets they have been greeted by a mob of hooting and shouting men and boys. Last night the weather probably reached a climax. Marshal Brannon yesterday told the leader that they must keep off of Tejon street and Pike's Peak avenue, as there was already crowds and confusion enough there in the evening, but when the parade started it headed up Huerfano street to Tejon. At the Gazette corner the marshal and a force of policemen called a halt, but the leader refused to stop and insisted that he had a right to take the parade where he pleased. Immediately a crowd collected and began to press in upon the marshal. There was threatening, pushing, etc., and the officers were busy defending the "lieutenant." Finally the marshal took him to the cooler and the policemen ordered the two women the lame boy and the three men carrying flags who composed the remainder of the parade, to return to the "barracks." The lieutenant will have his hearing this morning. It was some time before the crowds gathered on the scene of the trouble dispersed.

Washington camp, No. 25, P. O. S. of A., held a regular meeting last evening at which the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term, viz: President, George F. Green; vice president, Wm. A. Diebold, master of forms and ceremonies, J. E. Norman, conductor, B. G. Robbins, inside guard, H. Weber, outside guard, J. E. Miller, delegates to state camp, F. J. Steinmetz, George F. Green, R. H. Taylor, F. H. Hall.

[illegible] Tournament.

Chief Ferrin has received the following circular which will undoubtedly be of interest to the citizens of the city.

HEADQUARTERS
DENVER FIRE DEPARTMENT,
DENVER, June 26, 1889.

To the Fire Department, Colorado Springs:

DEAR SIR—Our tournament organization is nearly complete, and the indications are that we will have one of the grandest firemen's tournaments here, commencing Tuesday, August 20th, and lasting five days ever held in the west. An unusual amount of interest is being taken, not only by the fire department of our own and neighboring states, but also by representative teams of the far east. I am in receipt of communications from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas and several other of the southern states signifying their intention to take an active part in our exercises. Being one of the founders of the Colorado Firemen's association, organized in Denver in 1875, it is my desire to once more unite the firemen of Colorado in one great body, and in order to accomplish such an object, I ask your kind co-operation.

It is our intention to make this tournament as near a firemen's tournament, as it is possible, the prizes will amount to over $3000 in cash, besides numerous small prizes offered by prominent business houses. In order to make this an absolute firemen's tournament, professionals will be barred from participating in any but free for all teams, thus leaving them in a class by themselves, where they will in no manner interfere with the prizes offered to bona fide firemen's teams. Printed programmes will be mailed to your address shortly, and you will confer a great favor if you will kindly notify me as to whether you will attend as early as possible.

Yours, Very Respectfully,
JAMES PEARSE
Chief Denver Fire Department.

Denver's Fine Stores

Denver has unquestionably the largest and handsomest stores of any city of its population in the country. The furniture store of Jas. G. Kilpatrick, numbered 1721 and 1723 Lawrence street, is particularly attractive. On one of the establishment floors alone, 50x125 feet, packed full of all kinds of furniture required for furnishing the unpretentious cottage or the gorgeous mansion. His goods are all marked in plain figures on one floor is room after room of bedroom suits. A handsome suit can be had for $20.00 or a beautifully carved suit for $[illegible] to $1[illegible]. A lovely and commodious room suit for $[illegible] is quite prominent to the passer by. $[illegible] secures here a grand [illegible] suit and on the lounge and [illegible] there are plush, leather lounges for $12 and upwards. These goods are especially cheap and bargains.
